	Beyond the Golden Rule: A Parent's Guide to Preventing and Responding to Prejudice	Free online: https://www.tolerance.org/sites/default/files/general/beyond_golden_rule.pdf Whether you are the parent of a 3-year-old who is curious about why a friend's skin is brown, the parent of a 9-year-old who has been called a slur because of his religion, or the parent of a 15-year-old who snubs those outside of her social clique at school, this book is designed to help you teach your children to honor the differences in themselves and in others — and to reject prejudice and intolerance	Dana Williams	All Ages
	Dream Big, Little One	Featuring 18 trailblazing black women in American history. Among these women, you'll find heroes, role models, and everyday women who did extraordinary things.	Vashti Harrison	0-2
	Baby Loves Aerospace Engineering	This colorful new board book uses a simple yet engaging story about a young girl and a bird to explore the wonders of flight, from a bird's flapping wings, to a plane's engines, to a rocket's launch into orbit.	Ruth Spiro	0-3
	A is for Activist	An ABC board book written and illustrated for the next generation of progressives: families who want their kids to grow up in a space that is unapologetic about activism , environmental justice, civil rights, LGBTQ rights, and everything else that activists believe in and fight for.	Innosanto Nagara	0-2

	We're Different, We're The Same: And We're Wonderful	Elmo and his Sesame Street friends help teach toddlers and the adults in their lives that everyone is the same on the inside, and it's our differences that make this wonderful world, which is home to us all, an interesting—and special—place	Bobbi Jane Kates	2-4
	One Word From Sophia	Sophia tries varied techniques to get the giraffe she wants more than anything in this playfully illustrated story about the nuances of negotiation.	Jim Averbeck & Yasmeen Ismail	2-4
	I Am Enough	It features an African American girl who celebrates herself by perceiving the ways she resembles beautiful things in the world around her -- including people who look different	Grace Byers	2-4
	Harlem's Little Blackbird: The Story of Florence Mills	Born to parents who were both former slaves, Florence Mills knew at an early age that she loved to sing, and that her sweet, bird-like voice, resonated with those who heard her. Performing catapulted her all the way to the stages of 1920s Broadway where she inspired everyone from songwriters to playwrights. Yet with all her success, she knew firsthand how prejudice shaped her world and the world of those around her. As a result, Florence chose to support and promote works by her fellow black performers while heralding a call for their civil rights.	Renee Watson	3-7
	The Day You Begin	School-age children encounter and overcome feelings of difference from their peers in the latest picture book from Woodson. This nonlinear story centers on Angelina, with big curly hair and brown skin, as she begins the school year with a class share-out of summer travels.	Jacqueline Woodson	4-8
	The Legendary Miss Lena Horne	This book captures American performer Lena Horne, tracing her rise from a Brooklyn childhood to a singer and actress who faced persistent racism.	Carole Boston Weatherford	4-8

	Something Happened in Our Town	This book follows two families — one White, one Black — as they discuss a police shooting of a Black man in their community. The story aims to answer children's questions about such traumatic events, and to help children identify and counter racial injustice in their own lives.	Marianne Celano, Marietta Collins, & Ann Hazzard	4-8
	Viola Desmond Won't Be Budged!	In 1946, Viola Desmond bought a movie ticket at the Roseland Theatre in Nova Scotia. After settling into a main floor seat, an usher came by and told her to move, because her ticket was only good for the balcony. She offered to pay the difference in price but was refused: "You people have to sit in the upstairs section." Viola refused to move. She was hauled off to jail, but her actions gave strength and inspiration to Canada's black community	Jody Nyasha Warner	5-9
	Let It Shine: Stories of Black Women Freedom Fighters	Rosa Parks refused to give up her seat on a bus and sparked a boycott that changed America. Harriet Tubman helped more than three hundred slaves escape the South on the Underground Railroad. Shirley Chisholm became the first black woman elected to the U.S. House of Representatives. The lives these women led are part of an incredible story about courage in the face of oppression; about the challenges and triumphs of the battle for civil rights; and about speaking out for what you believe in--even when it feels like no one is listening.	Andrea Davis Pinkey	6-9
	Separate is Never Equal: Sylvia Mendez & Her Family's Fight for Desegregation	Almost 10 years before "Brown vs. Board of Education," Sylvia Mendez and her parents helped end school segregation in California. An American citizen of Mexican and Puerto Rican heritage who spoke and wrote perfect English, Mendez was denied enrollment to a Whites only school. Her parents took action by organizing the Hispanic community and filing a lawsuit in federal district court. Their success eventually brought an end to the era of segregated education in California.	Duncan Tonatiuh	6-9
	Malcolm Little: The Boy Who Grew Up to Become Malcolm X	Malcolm X grew to be one of America's most influential figures. But first, he was a boy named Malcolm Little. Written by his daughter, this inspiring picture book biography celebrates a vision of freedom and justice.	Ilyasah Shabazz	6-10

	I Am Not a Number	Irene Couchie and two brothers were taken from their family in 1928 to attend a Catholic boarding school. She was assigned a number in lieu of her name, her long hair was unceremoniously cut, and a nun physically abused her for speaking her native language.	Jenny Kay Dupuis & Kathy Kacer	7-11
	Ruth and the Green Book	Ruth was so excited to take a trip in her family's new car! In the early 1950s, few African Americans could afford to buy cars, so this would be an adventure. But she soon found out that black travelers weren't treated very well in some towns. Many hotels and gas stations refused service to black people because of the Jim Crow laws. Finally, a friendly attendant at a gas station showed Ruth's family The Green Book. It listed all of the places that would welcome black travelers. With this guidebook and the kindness of strangers, Ruth could finally make a safe journey from Chicago to her grandma's house in Alabama.	Calvin Alexander Ramsey	7-11

Books for Adolescent

	Little Leaders: Bold Women in Black History	A collection of short bios of accomplished African American women. The bios include women in a wide range of fields -- science, arts, journalism, politics, sports -- who range from popular cultural figures like Oprah Winfrey to activist/scholar Angela Davis.	Vashti Harrison	8-11
	Schomburg: The Man Who Built a Library	Amid the scholars, poets, authors, and artists of the Harlem Renaissance stood an Afro–Puerto Rican named Arturo Schomburg. This law clerk's life's passion was to collect books, letters, music, and art from Africa and the African diaspora and bring to light the achievements of people of African descent through the ages. When Schomburg's collection became so big it began to overflow his house (and his wife threatened to mutiny), he turned to the New York Public Library, where he created and curated a collection that was the cornerstone of a new Negro Division. A century later, his groundbreaking collection, known as the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, has become a beacon to scholars all over the world.	Carole Boston Weatherford	9-12

	We've Got a Job: The 1963 Birmingham Children's March	Tells the little-known story of the 4,000 black elementary, middle, and high school students who voluntarily went to jail between May 2 and May 11, 1963. The children succeeded —where adults had failed—in desegregating one of the most racially violent cities in America.	Cynthia Y. Levinson	9-12
	Rosa	Fifty years after her refusal to give up her seat on a Montgomery, Alabama, city bus, Mrs. Rosa Parks is still one of the most important figures in the American civil rights movement. This tribute to Mrs. Parks is a celebration of her courageous action and the events that followed.	Nikki Giovanni	9-12
	Esperanza Rising	Esperanza thought she'd always live with her family on their ranch in Mexico, and that she'd always have fancy dresses, a beautiful home, and servants. But a sudden tragedy forces Esperanza and Mama to flee to California during the Great Depression, and to settle in a camp for Mexican farm workers. Esperanza isn't ready for the hard labor, financial struggles, or lack of acceptance she now faces. When their new life is threatened, Esperanza must find a way to rise above her difficult circumstance; Mama's life, and her own, depend on it.	Pam Munoz Ryan	9-12
	The Crossover	12-year old Josh Bell and his twin brother Jordan are awesome on the court. But Josh has more than basketball in his blood, he's got mad beats, too, that tell his family's story in verse, in this fast and furious middle grade novel of family and brotherhood. Josh and Jordan must come to grips with growing up on and off the court to realize breaking the rules comes at a terrible price, as their story's heart-stopping climax proves a game-changer for the entire family.	Kwame Alexander	9-12

Books for Teen/Young Adult

	Title	Summary	Author	Suggested Age
	The Hate You Give	Sixteen-year-old Starr Carter moves between two worlds: the poor neighborhood where she lives and the fancy suburban prep school she attends. The uneasy balance between these worlds is shattered when Starr witnesses the fatal shooting of her childhood best friend Khalil at the hands of a police officer. Khalil was unarmed. Soon afterward, his death is a national headline. Some are calling him a thug, maybe even a drug dealer and a gangbanger. Protesters are taking to the streets in Khalil's name. Some cops and the local drug lord try to intimidate Starr and her family. What everyone wants to know is: what really went down that night? And the only person alive who	Angie Thomas	Teen

		can answer that is Starr. But what Starr does—or does not—say could upend her community. It could also endanger her life.
	To Kill A Mockingbird	The story, told by the six-year-old Jean Louise Finch, takes place during three years (1933–35) of the great depression, the fictional "tired old town" of Maycomb, Alabama. Her father, Atticus Finch, attempts to prove the innocence of Tom Robinson, a black man who has been wrongly accused of raping a white woman in 1930s Alabama.	Harper Lee	Teen
	All American Boys	Told in alternating perspectives between a white basketball player (Quinn) and an African American ROTC student (Rashad), a town grapples with the aftermath of Rashad's beating at the hands of a white police officer.	Jason Reynolds & Brendan Kiely	Teen
	March: Book One	Written by American civil rights icon John Lewis, March tells the story of Lewis' life—and, by extension, the Civil Rights Movement—in the form of a graphic novel.	John Lewis, Andrew Aydin & Nate Powell	Teen
	This is What I Know About Art	This young adult book demonstrates how protest and art are inextricably intertwined. In this personal story, art curator and writer Kimberly Drew explains that the art world can and should have a place for everyone.	Kimberly Drew	Teen
	The Rock and The River	Taking place in 1968 Chicago, thirteen-year-old Sam struggles with being the son of a well-known civil rights activist. Throughout the book, Sam grapples with his own identity, and how to best use his voice in a tale that will resonate for young readers.	Kekla Magoon	Teen

	The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian	The National Book Award winner follows Junior, a Native American teen who leaves his reservation to attend an all-white farm town high school. Based on the author's own experiences, this novel depicts the struggle of being torn between two very different worlds.	Sherman Alexie	Teen
	The Bluest Eye	Morrison's novels are acclaimed both for their prose and for their thorough examination of race relations in this country. The Bluest Eye is a sharp portrayal of our culture's fixation on beauty, and the consequences in trying to conform.	Toni Morrison	Teen
